1. Introduction

The Tutor Trust is a charity created for the benefit of improving children's educational attainment. Its core activity is providing tutors for one to one and small group tuition to children in schools, remotely in schools or at home and in appropriate environments such as care homes. The Tutor Trust believes that all children and young people have the right to learn in a safe and caring environment. This includes the right to protection from all types of abuse. Trustees, Tutor Trust officers, tutors and those in a position of trust who represent The Tutor Trust, have to do everything possible to foster these rights. To do this, certain protections need to be in place to safeguard children, as well as those who work with them. The Tutor Trust takes seriously its responsibility towards safeguarding all children who engage with the charity, with the focus being on their safety and welfare.

This policy is guided and referenced against the DfE's publication 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023' and the 'NSPCC Website August 2023'

The Tutor Trust is a charity that works with children (everyone under the age of 18) and as such is legally required to have a Safeguarding Policy.

Who does The Tutor Trust Safeguarding Policy apply to?

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children applies to trustees and everyone who is employed by or delivering The Tutor Trust services. These include trustees, employees (full time and part time), tutors, volunteers, interns and contractors. Tutor Trust services can be delivered in-person or remotely online.

The Tutor Trust Safeguarding Policy is available to all who represent The Tutor Trust who will be required to familiarise themselves with it.

In addition, when The Tutor Trust enters into a partnership with another organisation relating to work with children, the partner will be required to observe The Tutor Trust's Safeguarding Policy and any relevant guidance, and in turn, The Tutor Trust will receive a copy of the partner's policies.

2. Legal framework and related policies and procedures

This policy is complementary to several existing organisational policies and practices mentioned below. In general, where any reference is made to the physical world in these documents, this will apply in the same way in the online world, or as near to it as is reasonably foreseeable and possible.

3. Scope and Purpose of the Policy

General principles

The Tutor Trust acknowledges it has a responsibility for the safety of children receiving our services. It also recognises that good safeguarding policies and procedures are of benefit to everyone involved with our work, including staff, as they can help protect them from erroneous or malicious allegations.

All individuals who represent The Tutor Trust at all levels, must read and understand the following documents:

- Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023 Part 1 (as a minimum)
- The Tutor Trust Safer Recruitment Policy
- The Tutor Trust Whistleblowing Policy
- Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Staff (not relevant for tutors)
- Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Tutors (for tutors)
- Tutor Trust Remote Tuition Safeguarding Guidance

The purpose of The Tutor Trust Safeguarding Policy is to establish an environment in which the children with whom The Tutor Trust personnel come into direct or indirect contact are protected from abuse, are safe and are treated with dignity, and to create an atmosphere in which children feel able to discuss openly any concerns they may have or any circumstances which may constitute abuse.

The Safeguarding Policy seeks to achieve this by setting out a series of behavioural guidelines and a management structure to implement the policy.

The Tutor Trust is committed to providing a safe environment for children:

- The child's welfare is paramount.
- All children whatever their age, culture, disability, gender, language, racial origin, religious belief and/or sexual identity, have the right to protection from abuse.
- All suspicions and allegations of inappropriate behaviour will be taken seriously and responded to swiftly and appropriately.
- As defined in 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023', anyone under the age of 18 years is considered to be a child.

The Tutor Trust is committed to practices which promote the welfare of children and protect children from harm. The Tutor Trust acknowledges that representatives of the organisation deliver tuition to some of the most vulnerable children in society such as Looked after Children. The Tutor Trust provides additional training and support to tutors, when delivering tuition to children under these circumstances.

All staff who have supervised or unsupervised access to or contact with children are required to:

- Recognise and accept their responsibilities.
- Develop awareness of the issues which can cause children harm, such as the impact of Mental Health issues, as documented in 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023'.
- Report concerns following the procedures laid out within this policy.

The Tutor Trust will endeavour to safeguard children by:

- Reporting concerns to the appropriate authorities.
- Ensuring that safeguarding and child protection is promoted throughout the organisation. This is supported by placing safeguarding as a fixed item on the agenda of important meetings such as every Trustee Meeting, Finance and Risk Committee meeting, QA meeting, Recruitment meetings and every School Operations meeting.

- Carefully following procedures for recruitment and selection of staff, tutors and trustees.
- Providing effective management for staff, tutors and trustees through support and regular training.

The Tutor Trust is also committed to reviewing its Safeguarding Policy and associated guidance policies and procedures at regular intervals.

It is The Tutor Trust's policy that:

- Everybody representing The Tutor Trust accepts their responsibility to promote the welfare of children who come into contact with The Tutor Trust in connection with its tasks and functions, and that they will report any concerns about a child or somebody else's behaviour, using the procedures laid down.
- There is a Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL), a Trustee responsible for safeguarding and two Deputy DSL's (to act in the absence of the DSL) within The Tutor Trust, who will take action following any expression of concern. The lines of responsibility in respect of child protection are clear.
- The DSL, trustee and their deputies know how to make appropriate referrals to statutory child protection agencies.
- All those who represent The Tutor Trust should read as a minimum 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023 Part 1', 'Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Tutors' or 'Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Staff' and 'Tutor Trust Remote Tuition Safeguarding Guidance'
- Information relating to any allegation or disclosure will be clearly recorded as soon as possible, and there is a procedure setting out who should record information and the timescales for passing it on.
- The Children Act 2004 states that "everyone has a duty to co-operate to improve the well-being of the children". This means that considerations of confidentiality which might apply to other situations should not be allowed to over-ride the right of children to be protected from harm.
- The Tutor Trust's Safeguarding Policy will be referred to or included in recruitment, training, moderation and policy materials where appropriate, and the policies are openly and widely available to staff and actively promoted within the organisation.
- A culture of mutual respect between children and those who represent The Tutor Trust in all its activities will be encouraged, with adults modelling good practice in this context.
- All staff, trustees and anyone in paid or unpaid work on behalf of The Tutor Trust with supervised and unsupervised access to children will be vetted appropriately as part of Safer Recruitment.
- It is part of The Tutor Trust's acceptance of its responsibility of duty of care towards children, that anybody who encounters child protection concerns in the context of their work on behalf of The Tutor Trust will be supported when they report their concerns in good faith.

4. Conduct and Behaviour (Code of Conduct)

For further guidance on in-person and online conduct and behaviour please read 'Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Tutors' or 'Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Staff' and 'Tutor Trust Remote Tuition Safeguarding Guidance'. Guidance has been taken from Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023. A copy of all relevant documents are available on the tutor platform 'Thingi' and shared with every Tutor during their training. Copies are also available to staff and volunteers on The Tutor Trust shared drive.

5. Roles and Responsibilities

Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL)

The Tutor Trust has appointed a Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) who is responsible for dealing with any concerns about the protection of children. At The Tutor Trust this person is the Chief Operating Officer. The Tutor Trust provides 'additional time' to enable the DSL to 'take a lead and responsibility to ensure they respond to children's needs', this is outlined within the COO's job description. The DSL is Safeguarding Level 3 trained (renewed every two years) and has completed Prevent Training.

Deputy Designated Safeguarding Leads

There are two Deputy DSL's who will become responsible in their absence and will be trained to the same level as the DSL. One of the Tutor Trust's DSL's oversees work involving extremely vulnerable children (those in Alternative Provision and Looked After Children), this person is the Director of Tutoring Plus. The Director of Tutoring Plus has also received DSL training and has a wealth of experience in this field. The Deputy DSL's are Safeguarding Level 3 trained (renewed every two years) and have completed Prevent Training.

There is a Trustee responsible for overseeing safeguarding within The Tutor Trust, this is Lucy Crompton. Lucy has also received the DSL Level 3 Training and her training is updated every two years.

The role of the DSL is to:

1. Know which outside child protection agency to contact in the event of a child protection concern coming to the notice of The Tutor Trust.
2. Provide, promote, inform and advise on safeguarding and child protection within The Tutor Trust and provide regular updates.
3. Ensure that appropriate information is available at the time of referral and that the referral is confirmed in writing under confidential cover.
4. Ensure that the appropriate legislative body such as Police, LADO, Social Services or Barring list is notified of a referral in a timely manner.
5. Ensure that any confidential data is stored safely and securely, in line with all Data

Protection policies and procedures.

6. Keep relevant people within The Tutor Trust, such as the trustee responsible for safeguarding, informed about any action taken and any further action required; for example, disciplinary action against a member of staff.
7. Advise all Tutor Trust stakeholders of safeguarding and child protection training needs.
8. Review the operation of the Safeguarding Policy alongside the trustee responsible for safeguarding regularly to review procedures and introduce best practice.
9. The DSL, deputy DSL's and trustees must be appropriately trained and must advise relevant stakeholders within the organisation of any significant legislation changes, that may affect The Tutor Trust's activities.
10. Ensure the staff behaviour policy specifically covers acceptable use of technologies, including the use of mobile devices, tutor/staff/pupil relationships and communications, including the use of social media.
11. The DSL must have an understanding of filtering and monitoring systems.
12. In the DSL's absence, the deputies will carry out DSL duties by following all outlined procedures.

6. Reporting and Referral Process

Staff, trustees or tutors could have their suspicion or concern raised in a number of ways, the most likely but not exhaustive of which are:

1. The conduct of a member of The Tutor Trust's staff or tutor.
2. A child "disclosing" abuse.
3. Bruising or evidence of physical hurt.
4. Unusual behaviour by a child.
5. Overhearing a child's conversation with another child.

Where a tutor who is working on behalf of The Tutor Trust has a concern whilst providing tuition in a school, online, care home or any other place for tuition that has been arranged by The Tutor Trust, the tutor must contact in the first instance the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or equivalent) at the relevant location. The information for who to inform is supplied before tuition begins, at the Introductory Meeting, which involves both the school (or equivalent) and a Tutor Trust representative. Tutors will be guided by the setting's Safeguarding/Child Protection policies. The Tutor must then inform The Tutor Trust's DSL in the following way:

- Concerns about a specific child should be reported immediately in person or by telephone to The Tutor Trust's DSL and confirmed in writing. Delay could prejudice the welfare of a child.
  - Responding to low-level concerns – the information collected by the DSL will help them to categorise the type of behaviour and determine what further action may need to be taken.
  - All safeguarding concerns (and outcomes) are logged and recorded on a central, encrypted safeguarding log.

- If the concerns relate to the conduct of a member of staff or tutor these should be reported in person or by phone to The Tutor Trust’s DSL immediately. If the concern is about the DSL, then report to one of the Deputy DSL’s. Steps will be taken to fully support anyone who in good faith reports his or her concerns about a colleague and every effort will be made to maintain confidentiality for all parties whilst the allegation is considered. The Tutor Trust DSL will contact the trustee responsible for safeguarding and both will consider the report and either refer this immediately to the authorities or, after taking appropriate advice, decide not to refer the concerns to the authorities but keep a full record of the concerns.
  - Please refer to the enclosed flowchart on how to report.
- All staff and volunteers should feel able to raise concerns about poor or unsafe practice and potential failures in the Tutor Trust’s safeguarding regime and know that such concerns will be taken seriously by the senior leadership team. The Tutor Trust Complaints Policy and The Tutor Trust Whistleblowing Policy are in place and can be found on The Tutor Trust website, to provide guidance for such concerns to be raised with the senior leadership team.

Where a staff member feels unable to raise an issue with The Tutor Trust or feels that their genuine concerns are not being addressed, other whistleblowing channels are open to them: Staff or tutors can call the NSPCC on 0800 028 0285 (line is available from 8:00 AM to 8:00 PM, Monday to Friday) and email them at help@nspcc.org.uk. The Tutor Trust’s Whistleblowing Policy will also be able to guide a staff member’s response.

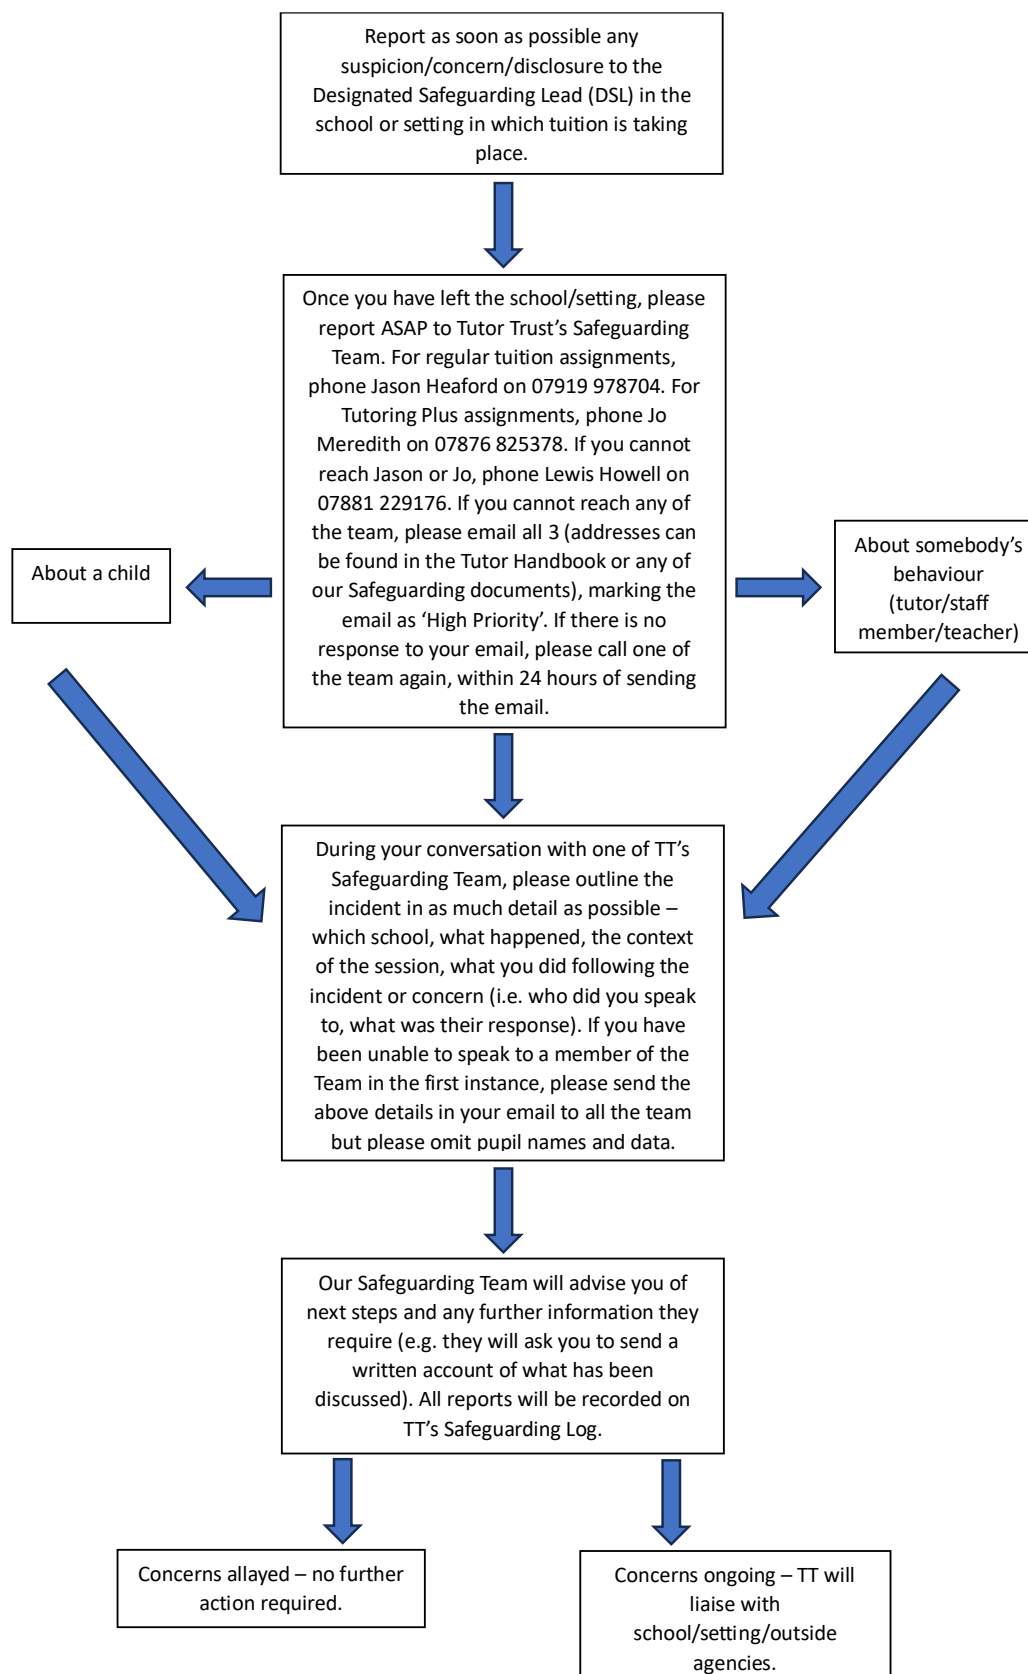

Any tutor under investigation for safeguarding concerns will have their current assignment ended, and further work will not be provided until the allegation has been resolved. This is to ensure the safeguarding of both tutors and tutees.

Referrals are made to the DBS when The Tutor Trust has concerns that a person has caused harm, or poses a future risk of harm to children. The DBS will consider cases that concern safeguarding matters (i.e. harm or the risk of harm to a child), barring individuals from working with children where appropriate.

The Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (SVGA) places a legal duty to refer any person to the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) who has:

- Harmed or poses a risk of harm to a child or vulnerable adult
- Satisfied the harm test (i.e. no action or inaction occurred but the present risk that it could was significant) or;
- Received a caution or conviction for a relevant offence

This flowchart demonstrates the process by which child protection concerns will be addressed by The Tutor Trust.

Responding Appropriately to a Child Making an Allegation of Abuse

1. Stay calm.
2. Listen carefully to what is said.
3. Find an appropriate early opportunity to explain that it is likely that the information will need to be shared with others – do not promise to keep secrets.
4. Tell the child that the matter will only be disclosed to those who need to know about it.
5. Ask questions for clarification only, and at all times avoid asking questions that suggest a particular answer.
6. Reassure the child that they have done the right thing in telling you.
7. Tell them what you will do next, and with whom the information will be shared.
8. Record in writing what was said, using the child's own words, as soon as possible – note the date, time, any names mentioned, to whom the information was given and ensure that the record is signed and dated.
9. It is important to remember that the person who first encounters a case of alleged abuse is not responsible for deciding whether abuse has occurred. That is a task for the professional child protection agencies, following a referral from the Designated Safeguarding Lead within the organisation.
10. Report to the setting's Designated Safeguarding Lead (or equivalent) as soon as is practically possible.
11. Report concern to The Tutor Trust's DSL as soon as is practically possible, who will complete Appendix A.

7. Safeguarding Training

Trustees

The Tutor Trust will ensure that all trustees receive appropriate safeguarding and child protection (including online) training at induction. The training will equip them with the knowledge to provide strategic challenge, to test and assure themselves that the safeguarding policies and procedures in place at The Tutor Trust are effective and support the delivery of a robust, whole organisation, approach to safeguarding. The training will be regularly updated.

Staff

The Tutor Trust ensures that all new staff undergo safeguarding and child protection training at induction. Training is updated regularly. In addition, all staff receive regular safeguarding and child protection updates (for example, via email, every staff/trustee meeting) as required, and at least annually, The Tutor Trust provides them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively. The Tutor Trust uses the expertise of staff by undertaking safeguarding training and managing safeguarding concerns on a daily basis. Opportunities are provided for staff to contribute to and shape child protection arrangements and the Safeguarding policy. All staff who represent The Tutor Trust must read 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023 Part 1', 'The Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Staff' and 'Tutor Trust Remote Tuition Safeguarding Guidance'.

All staff involved in the recruitment and placement process for roles involving children must be given dedicated and relevant safeguarding training, to include:

- What is safeguarding
- How to identify a potential safeguarding matter
- Their responsibilities
- Reporting process
- High risk & escalation process

Tutors

The Tutor Trust ensures that tutors have undertaken and completed the relevant training prior to placement in their role. This must cover as a minimum:

- Safeguarding and Child Protection – tutors complete training supplied by TES/Educare, which also covers radicalisation, extremism and Prevent Duty.
- Prevent Duty - This must be completed in addition to the requirements set out in the Safer recruitment policies within Keeping Children Safe in Education mandatory guidance, as set out further in this document.
- Annual refresher training is compulsory for all returning tutors, the training incorporates all relevant changes to KCSIE for that academic year.

8. Safeguarding definitions

The definition of the term 'safeguarding' as derived in this policy is taken from statutory guidance.

Safeguarding children is defined as:

- protecting children from maltreatment
- preventing the impairment of children's health or development
- ensuring that children are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes

Abuse is a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

Definitions of the four categories of abuse:

1. Physical abuse - a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.
2. Sexual child abuse - involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. Activities may involve physical contact or non-penetrative acts. Can take place online and technology can be used to facilitate abuse. Sexual abuse of children by other children and women is possible, it is not solely perpetrated by adult males (Rape, molestation, child pornography production and possession, masturbation, kissing, rubbing, grooming, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways).
3. Neglect - the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development (Physical neglect, educational neglect, and emotional neglect).
4. Emotional abuse - the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone (verbal, mental, or psychological abuse).

The signs of child abuse aren't always obvious, and a child may not be ready or able to disclose abuse (they may feel embarrassed or humiliated or are being threatened). Sometimes, children don't even realise that what's happening to them is abuse. That should not prevent staff or tutors from speaking to the DSL if they have concerns.

Some common indicators that there may be something concerning happening in a child's life include:

- unexplained changes in behaviour or personality
- becoming withdrawn
- seeming anxious or depressed
- becoming uncharacteristically aggressive
- physical marks/injuries (burns, scars, fractures)
- lacks social skills and has few friends if any
- poor bond or relationship with a parent
- knowledge of adult issues inappropriate for their age
- running away or going missing
- always choosing to wear clothes which cover their body
- malnutrition or unexplained weight loss

These signs don't necessarily mean that a child is being abused, (there could be other things happening in their life which are affecting their behaviour) but they should be monitored and any concerns reported. There may also be some concerning behaviour from adults who have children in their care, which raises concerns for the child/children's safety and wellbeing.

Key topics given greater emphasis in recent KCSiE updates include Domestic abuse (and the Domestic Abuse Act 2021), Child on Child abuse, Serious Violence and so-called 'Honour'-based abuse:

Domestic Abuse (excerpt take from 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023')

The Domestic Abuse Act 2021 introduces the first ever statutory definition of domestic abuse and recognises the impact of domestic abuse on children, as victims in their own right, if they see, hear or experience the effects of abuse. The statutory definition of domestic abuse ensures that different types of relationships are captured, including ex-partners and family members. The definition captures a range of different abusive behaviours, including physical, sexual, emotional and economic abuse and coercive and controlling behaviour. It may be a single incident or a pattern of incidents.

Types of domestic abuse include intimate partner violence, abuse by family members, teenage relationship abuse and child to parent violence and abuse. Anyone can be a victim of domestic abuse, regardless of sexual identity, age, ethnicity, socio-economic status, sexuality or background and domestic abuse can take place inside or outside of the home.

All children can be victims of domestic abuse – they may witness, and be adversely affected by, domestic abuse in the context of their home life where domestic abuse occurs between family members. Experiencing domestic abuse and/or violence can have a serious, long lasting emotional and psychological impact on children and their health, development and ability to learn. In some cases, a child may blame themselves for the abuse or may have had to leave the family home as a result.

Young people can also experience domestic abuse within their own intimate relationships. This form of child-on-child abuse is sometimes referred to as 'teenage relationship abuse'

Child on Child Abuse (excerpt take from 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023')

Children can abuse other children (often referred to as child-on-child abuse) and it can take many forms. It can happen both inside and outside of school and online. It is important that all staff and tutors recognise the indicators and signs of child-on-child abuse and know how to identify it and respond to reports. This can include (but is not limited to): bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying); abuse in intimate personal relationships between children (sometimes known as 'teenage relationship abuse'); physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse); sexual violence and sexual harassment; consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery); causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party; upskirting (which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress, or alarm) and initiation/hazing type violence and rituals. Addressing inappropriate behaviour (even if it appears to be relatively innocuous) can be an important intervention that helps prevent problematic, abusive and/or violent behaviour in the future.

Serious Violence and Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE) (excerpt take from ‘Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023’)

Tutors should be aware of the indicators which may signal children are at risk from, or are involved with, serious violent crime; increased absence from school or college, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in educational performance, signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs (including county lines) and may be at risk of criminal exploitation. Children can be exploited by adult males or females, as individuals or in groups. They may also be exploited by other children, who themselves may be experiencing exploitation – where this is the case, it is important that the child perpetrator is also recognised as a victim.

County lines is a term used to describe gangs and organised criminal networks involved in exporting illegal drugs using dedicated mobile phone lines or other form of “deal line”. This activity can happen locally as well as across the UK. Children and vulnerable adults are exploited to move, store and sell drugs and money. Offenders will often use coercion, intimidation, violence (including sexual violence) and weapons to ensure compliance of victims. Children can be targeted and recruited into county lines in a number of locations including any type of schools (including special schools), further and higher educational institutions, pupil referral units, children’s homes and care homes. Children are also increasingly being targeted and recruited online using social media. Children can easily become trapped by this type of exploitation as county lines gangs can manufacture drug debts which need to be worked off or threaten serious violence and kidnap towards victims (and their families) if they attempt to leave the county lines network.

So-called ‘honour’-based abuse (including Female Genital Mutilation and Forced Marriage) (excerpt take from ‘Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023’)

So-called ‘honour’-based abuse (HBA) encompasses incidents or crimes which have been committed to protect or defend the honour of the family and/or the community, including female genital mutilation (FGM), forced marriage, and practices such as breast ironing. Abuse committed in the context of preserving ‘honour’ often involves a wider network of family or community pressure and can include multiple perpetrators.

FGM comprises all procedures involving partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or other injury to the female genital organs. It is illegal in the UK and a form of child abuse with long-lasting harmful consequences.

Forcing a person into a marriage is a crime in England and Wales. A forced marriage is one entered into without the full and free consent of one or both parties and where violence, threats or any other form of coercion is used to cause a person to enter into a marriage. Threats can be physical or emotional and psychological. A lack of full and free consent can be where a person does not consent or where they cannot consent (if they have learning disabilities, for example). Nevertheless, some perpetrators use perceived cultural practices to coerce a person into marriage.

Definitions of the ten categories of abuse, including signs and symptoms relevant to children and adults as per statutory guidance:

1. Physical abuse
2. Domestic violence or abuse
3. Sexual abuse
4. Psychological or emotional abuse
5. Financial or material abuse
6. Modern slavery
7. Discriminatory abuse
8. Organisational or institutional abuse
9. Neglect or acts of omission
10. Self-neglect

The terms 'victim' and 'perpetrator' are widely recognised and understood but it is important to recognise that not everyone who has been subjected to abuse considers themselves a victim or would want to be described in this way. Ultimately, Tutor Trust staff and tutors should be conscious of this when managing any incident and be prepared to use any term with which the individual child is most comfortable. In some instances, the abusive behaviour will have been harmful to the perpetrator as well so it is important to think about terminology, particularly when speaking in front of children.

9. Information Sharing

Information sharing is vital in identifying and tackling all forms of abuse and neglect. As part of meeting a child's needs, it is important for The Tutor Trust to recognise the importance of information sharing between practitioners and local agencies. The Tutor Trust is proactive in sharing information as early as possible to help identify, assess and respond to risks or concerns about the safety and welfare of children, whether this is when problems are first emerging, or where a child is already known to the local authority children's social care.

The Tutor Trust is aware that among other obligations, the Data Protection Act 2018 and the GDPR place duties on organisations and individuals to process personal information fairly and lawfully and to keep the information they hold safe and secure.

The Data Protection Act 2018 and GDPR do not prevent the sharing of information for the purposes of keeping children safe. Fears about sharing information must not be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare and protect the safety of children.

**Further details regarding Information Sharing and Data Protection are held within The Tutor Trust Data Protection Policy and Privacy Notices. They are available to staff, tutors and trustees at all times.*

10. Safer Recruitment

This procedure sets out The Tutor Trust's requirements in respect of carrying out criminal records (DBS Disclosure) checks, checks against the DBS Children's Barred Lists, and a breakdown of the administrative arrangements made to ensure that these checks are carried out in accordance with relevant legislation and the DBS Code of Practice for Registered Bodies:

- All employees, volunteers and trustees who have potential contact, face to face or online, with children must have an up-to-date enhanced DBS check, which is processed by an authorised company and needs to be renewed annually. (Please refer to the Tutor Trust DBS Policy).
- Single Central Record – The Tutor Trust keeps a single central record of checks in line with instructions contained in the DfE guidance. A Single Central Record is kept to meet the requirements of the DBS and Safeguarding Policies, detailing all staff with contracts, volunteers, tutors and trustees who have contact with children.
- Storage & Access – The Tutor Trust does not permit the retention of Disclosure information on applicant's personnel files. It is accepted that under no circumstances will The Tutor Trust be sent or take a copy of any disclosure information. DBS information is viewed directly by the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) and other authorised staff members only.
- Handling - This information will be dealt with in strict confidentiality and conveyed to no other person. It is recognised that it is a criminal offence to convey information of this nature to any other person not entitled to receive it.
- Usage - DBS information is only to be used for the purpose of assessing an applicant's suitability for a role at The Tutor Trust.

The Tutor Trust's onboarding, recruitment, compliance and safeguarding processes must align to Safer Recruitment policies, as outlined in 'Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023' guidance, including the following checks:

- During the shortlisting process, Tutor Trust may carry out an online search as part of due diligence on the shortlisted candidates, and candidates will be informed of this possibility – this may help to identify incidents or issues that have happened, and are publicly available online, which can be explored at interview.
- All staff, trustees and tutors are interviewed by a minimum of two Tutor Trust staff (trained in Safer Recruitment) with a full working history confirmed accounting for any gaps in employment.
- When applying for a role, standalone CV's are not accepted – all candidates must fill in a full application form, to provide adequate information.
- Identity checks completed including eligibility to work, photo ID, and proof of residence and RTW in the UK.
- A medical self - assessment questionnaire is completed with the candidate to ensure they are fit to work.
- Qualification & QTS status checked and confirmed.
- UK Prohibition/interim probation checks and Section 128 (where applicable) completed before placement and re-checked annually for restrictions.

- Barred list check completed as part of enhanced DBS check. Update service check validated to include barred list. These checks are completed annually.
- DBS update service or a new DBS issued within the last 12 months ensuring DBS Safeguarding guidelines are met. Re-checked after any 3 month break in service.
- In addition to the requirements above and below, candidates who have worked or lived in another country for a recent substantial period must provide a police check or certificate of good conduct where possible.
- All candidates are stringently reference checked with a minimum of two recent references covering a substantial period, one of which is required to be the candidate's most recent or current employer.
- Where a candidate is not currently working with children a reference is also gained from the employer where the candidate was working with children.
- All tutors must have read Part One of Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023 and The Prevent Duty guidance, and complete all relevant safeguarding training

The Tutor Trust has adopted appropriate recruitment and selection procedures for staff, tutors, trustees and volunteers in the context of safeguarding and child protection and these include the following:

1. A clear definition of any role including Safeguarding responsibilities, so that the most suitable appointee can be identified.
2. A clear statement in the application form (or accompanying information) that it is an offence to apply if the applicant is barred from engaging in regulated activity relevant to children.
3. Identification of key selection criteria.
4. A wide circulation of information about vacancies to ensure equal opportunities.
5. Confirmation of the identity of the applicant.
6. Requirement to declare previous convictions and obtain an Enhanced with Barred List DBS check, for those candidates whose work will bring them into contact with children, or who will have a management responsibility in relation to those whose work does bring them into such contact.
7. A clear guarantee that disclosed information will be treated in confidence and not used against applicants unfairly, including adherence to the Disclosure and Barring Service code of practice.
8. Documentary evidence of qualifications.
9. Use of several selection techniques to maximise the chance of safe recruitment, e.g. interview, references, checks.
10. At least two representatives from The Tutor Trust meeting personally with every applicant, and an exploration of their attitudes towards working with children.
11. Written references collected, not testimonials.
12. All Tutor Trust recruitment or interview panels to have completed the Safer Recruitment NSPCC on-line training.

13. Online Delivery

When tuition is delivered online, the following policies (linked to this Safeguarding policy) from The Tutor Trust should be read and adhered to:

- 'Tutor Trust Remote Tuition Safeguarding Guidance'
- Tutor Trust Guidance on Conduct and Behaviour – For Tutors

All documents are available on The Tutor Trust website and through the tutor training portal 'Thinqi'.

Additional processes to safeguard pupils in an online delivery setting, include:

- An appropriate parent or guardian must be present for the duration of the online session.
- Clear guidance must be provided to the parent or guardian of the expectation of them, their child, and the tutor.
- Confirmation by the Tutor at the outset and end of the session that an appropriate parent or guardian is present.
- Contact details for The Tutor Trust will be provided to the parent or guardian, including contact details for the Tutor Trust's Designated Safeguarding Lead, to support the reporting of any safeguarding concerns at any point during the provision of online support.
- All online sessions are recorded on the Vedamo platform. All sessions are saved securely by the Tutor Trust.
- A safeguarding spot check audit is undertaken on a minimum of 1 session per Tutor per term by The Tutor Trust and recorded, detailing any safeguarding concerns raised in line with the Safeguarding reporting process as appropriate.
- In individual cases where a child cannot be recorded (i.e. they are a looked after child), other measures will be put in place to ensure sessions are monitored. This could be through Tutor Trust drop-ins or having a teacher or teaching assistant supervise the session by also joining the session online. The parent or guardian will also be told they will need to be extra vigilant as the session is not recorded.
- Where tutors are working in-person, within the school environment but using computers or tablets as part of the tuition session, they will comply with the school's filtering and monitoring procedures.

14. Change of Employee/Tutor Circumstances and Personal Information
